

The Type-tour is a blitz tour (20 minutes) and tests the technical input keyboard skill and includes only one task.

The tour takes place online and uses the Cup competition system.

You are offered the correct code for solving one of the tasks in the form of a picture of the code (Fig. attached to the task).

You need to demonstrate your technique of error-free and fast input at keyboard of the source code, that is, in no more than 20 minutes to have time to type the solution code and send it for verification.

You will have only one attempt to correct your typos and inaccuracies and send the code for verification again (that is, only two attempts are offered to send the code for verification). The maximum scores for this task are 100 or 50 points. A maximum of 100 points are awarded for a correctly typed code on the first attempt, and a maximum of 50 points for a correct code after the second attempt (the score that you will receive from the system on the second attempt must be divided by 2). If you did not have time to type the code or there are errors in the code detected by the competition system, then you get 0 points.

- It is guaranteed that the correctly typed code will pass verification.
- It is recommended to split the screen into two windows when entering for the convenience of typing code to see a picture of the code.
- The attached format of a picture of the code is protected from conversion or recognition.
